

2021 DISTINGUISHED SENIOR

“One of the most valuable learning experiences that I’ve had at Ohio State has definitely been the importance of networking.”

I have assisted graduate and post-doctoral research since my freshman year; my current project is an intensive cow study at Waterman Dairy.

A few experiences that stand out are seeing a baby calf be born and feeding cows their TMR for the evening alone for the very first time.

My greatest sense of success and self-accomplishment was when I received my internship offer letter from Purina.
