

Program Learning Goals & Outcomes

Think critically about the role and impacts of education, communication and leadership in society (U.S. and International settings)

- Examine history, important principles and theoretical frameworks that guide AEE
- Explain the role of AEE in addressing current and emerging societal issues

Become catalysts for change in living, learning, and working environments through Agricultural and Extension Education

- Develop quality plans for programs in AEE
- Apply appropriate evaluation strategies in AEE
- Analyze teaching and learning strategies for effective formal education
- Analyze leadership and administrative strategies for effective community outcomes

Be effective communicators exemplifying the skills necessary to report and summarize disciplinary information

- Report and summarize disciplinary information in writing
- Report and summarize disciplinary information orally
- Actively listen to questions and answer them directly

Utilize and consume research in Agricultural and Extension Education to address important societal issues

- Describe characteristics of quality research in Agricultural and Extension Education
- Examine research in Agricultural and Extension Education

THE OHIO STATE UNIVERSITY

COLLEGE OF FOOD, AGRICULTURAL, AND ENVIRONMENTAL SCIENCES