

2020 DISTINGUISHED SENIOR

I interned with the Ohio Association of Foodbanks and the Ohio AgriBusiness Association, where I was able to focus on food scarcity and networking.

Through the Agricultural Communicators of Tomorrow, I networked with professionals and travel to different conferences.

As editor of the AgriNaturalist magazine, I oversaw the publication process, edited stories and coordinated other students to create the magazine.

"I traveled to Nicaragua, Australia, Brazil and England and Scotland. I loved learning about agriculture and the environment on a global scale and it also gave me the opportunity to explore topics outside of the classroom."
